

SPEECHES OF THE PAST; DELIVERED IN THE PRESENT; INSPIRATION FOR THE FUTURE

The general assembly held on Friday, 26th November 2016, proved to be an eye opener as the audience were treated to a GA with a difference - a Declamation competition. Participants from 9th, 10th & 11th standards delivered evergreen speeches of famous personalities with gusto and reverence. The audience was taken back into an era of motivating, thought-provoking and introspective speeches like Martin Luther King Jr's 'I have a dream', Carl Sagan's 'The blue dot' and many other speeches by world leaders like Jawaharlal Nehru, John F Kennedy, B R Ambedkar and Winston Churchill.

The event was a wonderful experience that not only brought out hidden talent but also allowed both teachers and students alike, to go back in time and marvel at the eloquence and motivating words of immortal leaders. The judges at the event – the Vice Principal and head of the English Department Mrs Vijayalakshmi Raman, and Sai Abhijeet of 12 A, the declamation champion (who had won the Inter PSBB declamation last year) - had quite a hard time choosing the winners.

The programme ended with words of appreciation by the Principal, Mrs Vasanthi.S, who was instrumental in initiating this competition, and Mrs Vijayalakshmi Raman. Pratyusha of 11 C who delivered Martin Luther King's speech, Gomathi of 9 A (Gandhiji) and Harsh Jain of 10 D (Winston Churchill) were declared the winners, although the efforts of all the participants were commendable. Sai Abhijeet proved his mettle by regaling the audience with a speech by Charlie Chaplin, as a befitting tribute to the speakers of the world.

The Declamation competition was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone including the participants, and proved to be the most memorable.

By,
Krupa E Thannickel, 10C & Sahana, 9C

Reporter
Cyber Pigeons, NGM