

The Power of Language in Communication

October 16th, 2021 saw the Literary Lounge of PSBB Siruseri, enjoy the nuances of English language and thereby understand the immense potential this language offers in terms of communication of various feelings including, humour and sarcasm which are generally difficult to express.

The team comprising Ananya Narayan, Threyah, Ekanta Santoshi, Priyanka Rautray, Nikhileshwari and Cirashmika selected 'The Tale of the Melon City' poem for a recitation supported by a presentation displaying drawings to convey the profound nonsensical and sarcastic situation in the poem. The hard work and practice put in by the team was very evident in the recitation presented.

In keeping with the theme, Priyanka and Nikhileshwari conducted a game of Bingo based on books and characters such as Harry Potter, Percy Jackson, Pride and Prejudice, Jungle Book, Matilda and more. This was followed by Threyah's activity on Oxymorons, an interesting feature that English language offers.

The club members thoroughly enjoyed the program. The team that hosted the show claimed that the preparatory phase of the program was extremely challenging and the collaborative work finally paid off with a successful and satisfying presentation.

Humour in poetry

Deeply superficial games

Shutterbugs
Ananya Narayan IXB1
PSBB,SRS